

The Role of Traditional Ecological Knowledge: Discussions of the Cultural Dimensions of Climate Change

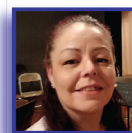

Delphine Jackson, PhD
Modoc

Esther Stutzman
Kalapuya

Linda Meanus
Warm Springs

Shannin Stutzman
Kalapuya

Valerie A. Small, PhD
Apsáalooke

Rose High Bear
DAG-Hit an DINE

Gail Woodside
Northern Cheyenne,
Mvskoge & Apache

Val Goodness
Tsalagi & Metis

Thursday MAY 18th, 2017

OSU Native American Longhouse
311 SW 26th St., Corvallis, OR 97331

- 8:00 am: Sign in | Continental Breakfast
- 8:15 am: Shannin Stutzman : Traditional Opening
Delphine Jackson, PhD : Blessing
Acknowledgements : Val Goodness | Gail Woodside
Greetings : Allison Davis White Eyes
Charles Goodrich
- 9:00 - 9:40: Valerie Goodness
- 9:45 - 10:25: Linda Meanus
- 10:30 - 11:10: Delphine Jackson, PhD
- 11:15 - 11:45: Valerie A. Small, PhD
- 11:50 - 12:00: Blessing for the food : Rose High Bear
- 12:00 - 1:00: LUNCH
- 1:00 - 1:40: Glen Jones
- 1:45 - 2:25: Ester Stutzman
- 2:30 - 3:10: Rose High Bear
- Elders Panel: What Does Change Mean to Tribal People & Elders?
- 3:30 - 5:00: Elders : Delphine Jackson, PhD, Esther Stutzman,
Linda Meanus & Valerie A. Small, PhD

Friday MAY 19th, 2017

OSU Gilfillan Auditorium
2601 SW Orchard, Corvallis

- 6:00 pm: Linda Meanus : Importance of First Foods & The Effects of Climate Change
- 7:00 pm: Valerie A. Small, PhD : The Bio-Cultural Effects of Russian Olive (Elaeagnus angustifolia L.) : Capturing The Tribal Voice on The Importance & Use of Culturally Significant Riparian Species

For more information contact Gail Woodside gail.woodside@oregonstate.edu

Climate & Native Wisdom: The People of The Caribou wisdomoftheelders.org/climate-and-the-people-of-the-caribou

Thank You Sponsors & Presenters

the Spring Creek Project for ideas, nature, and the written word

Diversity & Cultural Engagement

Native American Longhouse Elders

Oregon State University